

Winter In The Lake District

The patchwork of mountains, lakes, valleys and woodlands are a beautiful place to be in the winter months. It can also be a dramatic backdrop for winter walking and perhaps cycling! The Lake District is one of the nation's favourite National Parks and is a ideal for outdoor activities even in the winter months.

Windermere and Ambleside are popular choices and give easy access to the central Lake District, including Coniston, Rydal and the Langdale Valley. Or perhaps visit Cartmel, Grasmere, Lakeside or Ullswater all beautiful wintery places and not as many visitors at this time of the year!
